

LVL - 2

Quick Explanation

The server uses php eval() function to perform math operation between the two numbers that we are sending.

Since the server checks if we really send numbers we can inject our code with by changing the operator(+,-,*,/,) either directly from the html or by capturing the request to the server. By manipulating the string to ;phpinfo();